

Even though we are on the "Do Not Call List", solicitors still get around it and call regardless. I happen to like New Jersey's, since it has cut down tremendously on these calls. Solicitors, surveyors, police athletic leagues still call even when you are on these lists. Imagine the amount of call I would receive without such a list.

I think you need to work on the companies that come up on Caller ID as unavailable to make them become listed so that they have to follow the Do Not Call rules too. When these companies are asked about why they are calling you, they hang up on you.

If you lessen the Do Not Call Act, I will once again be harassed by numerous telephone calls from 7:30 am until 9:30 pm once again. These calls are disrupting to my family as they call seven days a week. Please leave New Jersey's Act alone, we really like it as it is.
